1. If applicant desires priority under 35 U.S.C. 120 based upon a previously filed application, specific reference to the earlier filed application must be made in the instant application. For benefit claims under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121 or 365(c), the reference must include the relationship (i.e., continuation, divisional, or continuation-in-part) of the applications. This should appear as the first sentence of the specification following the title, preferably as a separate paragraph unless it appears in an application data sheet. The status of nonprovisional parent application(s) (whether patented or abandoned) should also be included. If a parent application has become a patent, the expression "now Patent No. _____" should follow the filing date of the parent application. If a parent application has become abandoned, the expression "now abandoned" should follow the filing date of the parent application.

If the application is a utility or plant application filed under 35 U.S.C. 111(a) on or after November 29, 2000, the specific reference must be submitted during the pendency of the application and within the later of four months from the actual filing date of the application or sixteen months from the filing date of the prior application. If the application is a utility or plant application which entered the national stage from an international application filed on or after November 29, 2000, after compliance with 35 U.S.C. 371, the specific reference must be submitted during the pendency of the application and within the later of four months from the date on which the national stage commenced under 35 U.S.C. 371(b) or (f) or sixteen months from the filing date of the prior application. See 37 CFR 1.78(a)(2)(ii) and (a)(5)(ii). This time period is not extendable and a failure to submit the reference required by 35 U.S.C. 119(e) and/or 120, where applicable, within this time period is considered a waiver of any benefit of such prior application(s) under 35 U.S.C. 119(e), 120, 121 and 365(c).

2. A priority claim filed after the required time period may be accepted if it is accompanied by a grantable petition to accept an unintentionally delayed claim for priority under 35 U.S.C. 119(e), 120, 121 and 365(c). The petition must be accompanied by (1) the reference required by 35 U.S.C. 120 or 119(e) and 37 CFR 1.78(a)(2) or (a)(5) to the prior application (unless previously submitted), (2) a surcharge under 37 CFR 1.17(t), and (3) a statement that the entire delay between the date the claim was due under 37 CFR 1.78(a)(2) or (a)(5) and the date the claim was filed was unintentional. The Director may require additional information where there is a question whether the delay was unintentional. The petition should be addressed to: Mail Stop Petition, Commissioner for Patents, P.O. Box 1450, Alexandria, Virginia 22313-1450.

3. Applicants originally filed an alleged continuation application. The alleged continuation application was filed on September 12, 2000, which is prior to November 29, 2000. Had this status continued, there would be no question on any transitional issue, e.g., paragraph 2 above would not apply. However, the application was not perfected until 2003 with the filing of a corrected, continuation-in-part oath. This transitional situation is without apparent precedent. As explained earlier in this application, it is not clear if the error was unintentional, note the prosecution to date. Rejections for new matter were made as to originally submitted new claims in parent applications, as set forth in Paper No. 10 herein. It is believed, in the instant circumstances, that the filing of this now c-i-p application was not perfected prior to November 29, 2000, and thus applicants' priority claim under 35 USC 120 is denied as untimely. Applicants are required to either cancel the claim for priority, to petition as set forth in paragraph 2 above, or to take other action as may be appropriate [37 CFR 1.181-1.183].

4. Further, the benefit of the date of the parent applications is also denied because of the presence of new matter in the instant claims, which has no basis in the parent applications as filed.

5. The information disclosure statement filed September 12, 2000 fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(2), which requires a legible copy of each U.S. and foreign patent; each publication or that portion which caused it to be listed; and all other information or that portion which caused it to be listed. It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered. The patents which are not problematic have been initialed, but in the case of two documents, numbers 12 and 14, the patent numbers appear incorrect. Thus, not only is there no copy supplied by applicants, but an effort to print them out did not provide patents which matched the inventors, etc., specified for the patent numbers. As to the technical literature document on page 3, no copy was received.

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

> A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –
> (a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.
>
> (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
> (e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

> (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

9. In regard to the matter set forth in paragraph 7 above, applicants are also reminded of their continuing duty of disclosure, which was not complied with as to several documents used in the rejection below.

10. Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Strauss et al. USP 5,690,868, in view of Manning et al., USP 5,798,481, Strauss et al. USP 5,716,557, and Haaland et al. USP 5,759,458 and 6,171,530.

In Strauss et al. USP 5,690,868, note the Abstract and col. 4, line 17-col. 5, line 32. Potentially, this may be the epitome of obviousness, anticipation, as claim 13 is now broadly presented. See In re Pearson, 181 USPQ 641 (CCPA 1974).

In any event, to the extent necessary, variation of amounts or specific ingredients would have been obvious. Manning et al., USP 5,798,481 further teaches the aspect of melting and mixing the compositions of individual propellants, each propellant being made from the same polymers and selection of oxidizer ingredients. Strauss et al. USP 5,716,557, in the Abstract, and col. 3, lines 39-52, line 45 especially, as well as in the claims, is also similar as to the ingredients and the method steps, especially as to a single propellant composition. The Haaland et al. patents further show the aspect of preparing the fast and slow burning propellants, which are then layered and annealed, thereby intermixing at least at the meeting surfaces of the respective layers. In USP '458, note especially Example 6, e.g., col. 6, lines 18-37 and the claims thereof, while in USP '530, note also the claims thereof. It is well settled that optimizing a result effective variable is well within the expected ability of a person or ordinary skill in the subject art. In re Boesch, 617 F.2d 272, 205 USPQ 215 (CCPA 1980), In re Aller, 220 F.2d 454, 105 USPQ 233 (CCPA 1955).

11. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970);and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

12. Claim 13 is rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over the claims of U.S. Patents No. 5,716,557 and 5,690,868. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because of clear overlap.

13. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

14. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

15. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Edward A. Miller whose telephone number is (703) 306-4163. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Thursday.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Michael Carone can be reached on (703) 306-4198. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 703-872-9306.
